Guidelines for Ancillary Events

1. Events for attendees may not be held during official conference events as listed in the schedule of events on the SIO Website.

2. Ancillary events are defined as any event that includes non-company (exhibitor) personnel.

3. Exhibitor Personnel Meetings are defined as organizational meetings that include company personnel only. These meetings are permitted any time except during scheduled exhibit hours. Company personnel are considered full- or part-time paid or contract employees of an exhibiting company.

4. exhibitors@sio-central.org

5. Exhibitors who wish to hold an educational program targeted at meeting attendees must go through the Industry-Experts Theater program structure. For more information on these programs, please contact bgalstan@sio-central.org

6. Exhibit Personnel Meetings are defined as organizational meetings that include company personnel only. These meetings are permitted any time except during scheduled exhibit hours. Company personnel are considered full- or part-time paid or contract employees of an exhibiting company.

7. All organizations are responsible for all set up, AV, food and beverage, and billing arrangements for the event.

8. Allowable start times are inclusive of transportation. No exceptions to this schedule may be allowed.

9. All organizations are responsible for all set up, AV, food and beverage, and billing arrangements for the event.

10. Once SIO approves your request for an event, you will receive information on your space assignment and contract information at the hotel. Your organization is responsible for making all set up and billing arrangements for AV and Food & Beverage.

All ancillary event marketing materials must be approved by SIO prior to distribution to meeting attendees. Please send materials to Brigid Greaney at exhibits@sio-central.org for approval.
